L. ROCK SCHOOL INTEGRATED

One of the negro group who decoyed the angry mob at Central High School here, today, making it possible for nine negro students to enter the building almost un-noticed, is knocked to the ground as the mob drove them away from the area around the school. (United Press Telephoto).

Mob Battles As 9 Negroes Use Decoy

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. UP — Nine Negroes, through a ruse, slipped into Central High School just before the last bell rang today and integrated it. A mob beat up a Negro photographer who acted as a decoy.

As the Negro students walked into the school, white students started a walkout. Thirty to 50 white students, who filled one study hall, marched down the front steps and joined the yelling mobs on the sidewalk.

"They're in, they're in," a white girl ran down the street, screaming.

"Let's go in and get the ---- out," her mother said. But there was no immediate attempt by a crowd of perhaps 500 to invade the school.

The ruse was set up by five Negroes, one a photographer, who sneaked toward a 15th Street side entrance to the school. While the crowd was surging through police barricades to get at the five decoys, the nine Negro students slipped in through an entrance on 14th Street. Nine had been scheduled to attend.

Catch Photographer
The four Negroes with the photographer ran, but the crowd caught the photographer, tripped him, stomped him, beat him and tore up his camera.

White children started marching out of the school. Thirty to 50 students were in the first groups to walk out.

"Nigger, you're not going to pass here! Block 'em. Block 'em," the crowd yelled as they saw the decoys. By the time the battered photographer managed to get to his feet and escape, police had cordoned off the area with cars and motor cycles.

Mothers on the sidewalk started screaming "I want my children out! I want my children out!"

A short, husky policeman ripped off his badge, yelled, "I quit" and walked off to cheers from the crowd. Photographers tried to take his picture but he lashed out at them with his nightstick, which he did not jettison.

After the Negroes were in and the first excitement was over, the crowd began to quiet down. City and state police, shoulder to shoulder, held them back.

There were still shouts of "Come (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Mrs. Geruso Catches Hand In Mower

Mrs. Hallett Geruso, wife of Levittown Public Recreation Association, executive director, Dick Geruso, suffered an injury to her hand that could have been a lot more serious but for the fast thinking of an unidentified telephone operator.

She was resting comfortably in Rolling Hill Hospital this morning after catching her right hand in between the cutting blades of a reel-type mower Friday.

Mrs. Geruso was using the power mower on the lawn of her home at East Holland Road and Buck Road, Newtown, when the accident occurred.

She ran inside and called the operator to help. The operator advised her to apply a tourniquet as she called for the Geruso family doctor.

The doctor was out of town so the operator notified Chief Jack Frey, Northampton Township Police. The American Legion ambulance was called and she was rushed to the hospital.

Mrs. Geruso suffered a fractured bone, lacerated back of the hand and cuts on her fingers.

Fall Makes Rainy Debut

Fall thundered in to Lower Bucks at 3:27 this morning on the heels of driving rain which dropped almost an inch of precipitation in less than four hours.

Summer clung tenaciously to its final day yesterday with torrid heat hitting a high of 86 at 4 p.m. bolstered with uncomfortable humidity.

Tomorrow will be cloudy and cool with temperatures in the middle 70's.

Hoffa Asks Trial Delay

NEW YORK (UP) — Midwest Teamster Boss James Hoffa today asked for an indefinite continuance of his trial on federal wire tap charges because "the atmosphere is saturated with prejudice."

But Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan set Oct. 15 for trial of Hoffa and two others on charges they tapped phones at Hoffa's Detroit headquarters.

Judge Ryan gave Hoffa's attorneys until Oct. 2 to file motions in support of their argument that the leading contender for president of the Teamsters Union could not get a fair trial.

Attorney Sol Gelb told Ryan it would be impossible to get a fair trial because of hearings by the Senate Rackets Committee and resulting publicity damaging to Hoffa.

"The whole atmosphere is saturated with prejudice against him," Gelb said.

Burglary Of Cleaners Led To Suspects

Bristol Township police did a quick investigation of Saturday's lunch-hour burglary of the Frankford Cleaners office at Violetwood Shopping Center, Mill Creek Road, Levittown and solved four church thefts as well.

In one and one-half hours Patrolmen William Edmund, Edward Ward, Harry Smith and John Rice had four juveniles in hand, 12 to 14-year-old boys who the police said admitted all the thefts. The suspects were turned over to juvenile authorities of the Bucks County Court.

Police said the boys took $36.58 and two keys from the cleaners between 1 and 2 p.m., after forcing a rear door to enter.

August 29, the officers said, the boys entered Temple Shalom Synagogue, Edgely Avenue, and took jewelry and religious articles valued at $93. These were partially recovered.

June 25 and again July 2, the boys stole small change and stamps from the First Presbyterian Church of Levittown, the police said.

They also admitted robbing a poor box at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Woodbourne Road, Levittown, police said.

Sgt. Joseph Zalott, Jr., of Middletown township police, said three of the four boys told him they broke into Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church about August 27 during the day, removed two poor boxes from the wall and emptied them outside.

They said they used a penknife to force open a back kitchen door, remove the boxes and slide the money out. The boys took $5 to $10, the officer said. After their arrest they located the boxes, which they had abandoned in a field near the church.

VFW Post Raided By Liquor Agents

The John Bifflington VFW Post will meet tomorrow night to discuss curtailment of activities following the loss of bar revenues after a raid Saturday morning.

Walter Holzer, spokesman for the post on Haines Road, Levittown, said the raid would probably cause a "drastic curtailment in many community activities of the post."

Bristol Township police and Pennsylvania Liquor Board agents raided the post at 12:30 a.m. seizing the liquor and arresting two men while clearing the establishment of eight customers.

The post had tried to obtain a liquor license last year but was told none would be available until 1960.

Morrisville Police Chief's Wife Wins

By JACK SCULLIN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

The wife of Morrisville's police chief, a Levittown housewife of less than a month, and an unemployed Bristol steel worker shared top honors in the third round of the Community Survey being conducted throughout Lower Bucks County by the Courier-Times.

Mrs. John S. Davis, of 73 North Pennsylvania Ave., Morrisville, mother of five children, won the $50 first place award.

Second place money of $25 was awarded to Mrs. Richard L. Greene, of 8 Smoketree Road, Levittown, who moved with her husband and two children a month ago from Baltimore, while Wilfred Hatcher, of 230 Otter St., Bristol, laid off from his job at Fairless Works, came through with third place honors good for a $10 bill.

Ad Appraisal
The three winners, along with friends and neighbors, joined in appraising Courier-Times advertisements.

A new survey begins this week. Readers will have an opportunity for the three cash prizes, presented each week in gratitude for valuable aid to the Courier-Times and its advertisers in bettering service to the public.

Mrs. Davis, when informed she had won the first place money,

Mrs. John S. Davis, wife of the Morrisville police chief, is this week's first prize winner in the Courier-Times Community Survey contest. Mrs.

declared "I'm thrilled. I can use it, I'll tell you that."

"All Good"

In discussing the advertisements, she said "they're all good." "I look for the advertisements that are nice and clear and don't have a lot of small type and can be clearly read. I like a picture in an ad. I like to shop a lot by phone, and through the ads, can tell just what I want."

Mrs. Davis has two married daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Darnell, Hoff, of Morrisville. Two daughters, Carol and Barbara, are at home with Chief and Mrs. Davis. A son, William, is serving with the U.S. Army in Germany.

'Easy To Read'

Mrs. Greene, whose husband is employed by the Applied Science Corporation, of Princeton, said she likes the ads that are easy to read.

"I like the large print and the ads that give you total prices clearly. I'm not particularly interested in what you save but what you actually have to pay for the item. I also like ads classified so you can find out quickly and easily about an article."

Mrs. Greene said she never won a contest before. She is the mother of a son, Paul, nine and a daughter, Linda, 3½ years.

on out of there. Let's go in and get 'em." Some of the police held tear gas guns ready, and members of the mob, eyeing them, contented themselves with shouting and cat-calling.

Night Police Chief Gene Smith, in charge of the guard at the school, personally charged three men back into the crowd with his club.

One of the Negroes with the photographer was kicked. He didn't run as fast as the others; he stood his ground after a preliminary start, and even after he was kicked, didn't run.

"Get a rope. Hang him. Kill the black SOB," members of the mob yelled. "They're getting in the back door."

But by that time it was too late. The Negroes were in. They got through just before the last bell rang at 8:55 a.m.

Frightening Possibilities

The situation possessed the most frightening possibilities for wholesale violence of any since the U.S. Supreme Court ordered desegregation of public schools in April, 1954.

It had steadily been growing more tense since the night of Sept. 2, when Gov. Orval Faubus, saying he had reports of imminent violence, called out the guard to prevent the school's integration.

Faubus sent the guard home last Friday night, when U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies decided the governor's fears of violence were groundless and put him under injunction not to interfere with the school's integration.

Close to $150 in goods was stolen early this morning from the Ford Motor Co. display "Design For Station Wagon Living" at the Levittown Shopping Center.

Horace McNab, spokesman for the Levittown Businessmen's Association, said the show will continue daily.

"The stolen equipment all comes from Europe and is being flown here to replace the merchandise taken from the center," he said.

Articles include several Jon-E-Warmers, used in camping; a knife which cleans and weighs fish, spotlight batteries; a thermos bottle and a pair of long underwear.

Tullyn police and detectives from the William J. Burns Detective Agency, are investigating the theft.

Falls Patrolman Testifies In Case

Eily Davis, Trenton, went on trial this morning in Bucks County Criminal Court, Doylestown, charged with the hold-up of a Trenton grocery store.

Patrolman Hugh McCue, Falls Township Police, identified Davis as the man who held his arm while an accomplice, George Chester, knocked McCue's gun from his hand.

Chester, Davis and three other persons are charged with taking several hundred dollars from the Trenton grocery store and fleeing to Bucks County.

The get-away car was halted by police in Lower Bucks County.

Pirates Re-Hire Murtaugh For '58

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Danny Murtaugh, the chipper Irishman who took over as "interim" manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates when Bobby Bragan was fired, will pilot the team next season, it was announced today.

Terms of the one-year pact were not revealed.

Murtaugh needs only one more victory for a .500 showing in the 49 games he has directed the team since the dramatic dismissal of Bragan in Chicago last Aug. 3.

A former Pirate second baseman, Murtaugh is the first alumnus to manage the team since Pie Traynor took over the reins in the middle of the 1934 season.

When Do You Shop - And Why?

Look up the announcement on Page 12 today and do some serious thinking about when you prefer to shop and exactly what your reasons are for preferring such time.

Every merchant is anxious to operate his business so as to accommodate the majority of his customers as they prefer to be served and we would very much appreciate having you write us a letter this week, telling why you have a preference for shopping at certain times. The "why" is important because we need to balance your reasons against the reasons of others.

Many people have learned that they can do their shopping to much greater advantage if they do it at times other than "the rush hours." Some can do this — some can't. Tell us this week what you prefer and why — and clip out the weekly Ad Ballot and give us your opinions regarding the ads this week.

main shaft, a round-about route of about five miles because of small fires in surrounding runways.

Cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

The blast occurred at the portal of the mine in the tiny southwestern Pennsylvania community about seven miles west of here.

Capt. Garnow said a rope was lowered at least 500 feet down the shaft only minutes after the blast let loose at about 7:10 a.m. e.d.t.

A note was attached to the rope, and when it was withdrawn the names of four men were written on it: Sprowls, Nelson, Majesky and Kurpik.

A few minutes later, contact was established with two more trapped miners "by shouting down the smoke-filled shaft."

A rescue team began making an entry from a tunnel which runs parallel to the shaft, but police said they were hampered by dense smoke and fire. Workers on the surface attempted to establish telephone communications.

Authorities sent out for additional rescue equipment, including a hoist to replace the mine elevator which was destroyed by the blast.

Police said the trapped men apparently were about 500 feet down the shaft "because we lowered at least 500 feet of rope before we got a response."

Firemen Answer Alarm Near Inn

Diners at the Pennsbury Inn, Falls township were diverted from their menus and platters Saturday night by a rubbish fire in the garage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watts, a quarter mile away on the shore of Manor Lake.

Firemen from three township companies answered the alarm. Chief Charles Hopkins, of Levittown No. 1 company, estimated damage at $10. He said the blaze was confined to a corner of the two-car garage.

The house is a Fairless Hills-type home that sits alongside three Levittowners. Mr. Watts is superintendent of the King Fams. His wife manages the Pennsbury Inn.

Answering the call with the Levittown firemen were the Fairless Hills and Fallsington fire companies.

Falls Township Police are investigating the burning of a cross at the home of Peter Von Blum, 96 Village Lane, Vermilion Hill, Levittown early this morning. The wooden cross was six feet high and two feet wide.

Suitcase Reported Stolen From Car

A Magnolia, Mass., woman reported to Morrisville police last night a suitcase containing clothing and jewelry valued at $250 had been stolen from her car.

Mrs. Jay Alderman said she had parked her car from 7:30 to 10 p.m. near 705 Crown St., where she was visiting friends, and went to the nearby Morrisville Shopping Center. When she returned the suitcase was missing.

Cars Jump Tracks, Skid To Station

PEABODY, Kan. (UP)—Ten cars of the Rock Island Railroad's Twin-Star Rocket passenger train derailed at high speed today, injuring about 30 persons.

No fatalities were reported in the wreck and authorities said none of the injured appeared to be in critical condition. The injured were rushed to hospitals in nearby Newton, Marion and Wichita.

B. Fisher, Rock Island station agent here, said the cars jumped the track about 200 yards from the depot and skidded to a halt at the station.

Five of the passenger cars toppled over onto their sides and the others tilted at crazy angles.

Fisher said the Minneapolis.

Minn., to Houston, Tex., train does not stop at Peabody but speeds through the yards at 60 to 80 miles per hour. He said the train was right on schedule when it reached the yards at 1 a.m. c.s.t.

Among the cars was a private coach containing Harold Barry, purchasing manager of the Railroad, and his family, who was making an inspection tour of the line.

"The good Lord sure was with these people," Barry said.

Engineer W. A. Dawson, 63, Herington, Kan., said he had "no sensation" of a wreck and was unaware the cars derailed until the baggage car behind the double diesel engine units began rocking.

L. R. Riddiough, who lives near the crash scene, said he was the first to reach the wreckage and found the passengers "unusually calm." He said there were no "screams or hysteria" in the darkened, overturned cars.

The uninjured passengers among the 87 persons aboard the train were taken to Wichita by bus and continued their journey.

Ike Has Busy Day

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower makes a one-day visit to Washington today for a busy schedule of speeches and conferences.

Tops on the list were meetings with Crown Prince Feisal of Saudi Arabia and Attorney General Herbert Brownell.

The meeting with Feisal was officially billed as a "courtesy call" but those scheduled to attend included Secretary of State John Foster Dulles; William Rountree, Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern Affairs and Saudi Arabian Ambassador Sheikh Abdullah Alkhatayl. Observers said the tense middle eastern situation was almost certain to come under discussion even though the meeting was scheduled only for one half-hour.

The talk with Brownell was expected to center on the Little Rock, Ark., school integration developments.

The relaxed-looking president planned to rise about dawn, leave the Newport naval base by helicopter and switch to the presidential plane Columbine III for the flight to the capital.

Crash Injures Driver, Expectant Mother

A driver and his pregnant wife were injured last night on U.S. Route 1 in Middletown township as they tried a left turn for a visit to the Howard Johnson restaurant.

State Police of Fairless Hills sub-station said their car was hit in the rear by another car. Both were heading east on the highway.

Harry R. Disbrow Jr., of 72 Marshall Ave., Trenton, was cut near the eye and lip. His wife, Marie, an expectant mother, received deep lacerations of the forehead. She was admitted to the Lower Bucks County Hospital.

Troopers Eugene Corsi and Raymond Talalay said the Disbrow car was hit by a car driven by Leopold W. Hetlich, 692 Second Street Pike, Southampton.

Ice Chunk Found In Winder Village

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DeMara, of 922 Winder Drive, Winder Village, are wondering where a large piece of ice, "more square than round" came from this morning.

They discovered the ice on their sidewalk when DeMara went to work this morning at 6 o'clock. Whether it came from the storm or a milk truck the DeMara's didn't know.

"But we didn't get any milk today," Mrs. DeMara declared, looking at the ice as it slowly melted.

Waits Case Review

Convicted Captain Held Under Guard

SHREVEPORT, La. (UP) — An Air Force officer was under maximum security guard here today, awaiting review of his conviction for trying to peddle secret Air Force data to Russia.

CAPT. GEORGE FRENCH

Capt. George H. French, a veteran of World War II and holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, was convicted by a court martial Friday. The 2nd Air Force, a branch of the Strategic Air Command, said French will be held until the unit's commander, Maj. Gen. George W. Munday, reviews the proceedings.

Life Imprisonment

French was sentenced to a dishonorable discharge, life imprisonment and forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

A spokesman for the 2nd Air Force said French dropped a letter on the Russian embassy grounds in Washington, giving a hotel as his address and offering to furnish certain information for $27,000.

The letter was intercepted by American agents, the Air Force said, and FBI and Air Force security agents arrested French at the hotel.

Extensive Probe

An extensive investigation followed, then the four-day hush court martial. The investigation indicated, a source said, that French "at no time actually made contact with a representative of the Soviet Union."

The Air Force said money troubles apparently figured heavily in French's action.

French's father, who lives in Mt. Vernon, N.Y., and is a packing house worker, said "this thing has hit me like a cyclone."

The officer's wife said she feels no bitterness toward her husband. She has told the couple's three children, ages 13, 10 and 2, their father is on a trip.

Ill Mother Shoots Self

A Parkland mother of three children shot and killed herself Saturday night, apparently because she had been ill.

She was Mrs. Priscilla Bolton, 37, the mother of three children, who left the dinner table to commit suicide. The family lives at 977 Highland Ave.

Her husband, Addison, and children heard a shot five minutes later, according to Middletown township police. They went to the bedroom to find Mrs. Bolton lying on the floor with a bullet wound in her right temple and a small 32-caliber revolver in her right hand.

Badly wounded but still alive, she was placed in an ambulance of Treves Heights Rescue Squad. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Lower Bucks County Hospital.

Bucks County Coroner Thomas A. Lamb issued a certificate of death self-inflicted by firearms. Bolton is employed by the Naval Turbine Testing Co., Trenton.

Thieves Hit School, Robert Morris Field

Thieves broke into Morrisville High School and the concession stand at Robert Morris Field sometimes Saturday night or yesterday morning, Morrisville police reported this morning, but nothing was stolen.

Patrolmen Joseph Cavanaugh said James E. Wood, assistant high school principal, discovered the entry yesterday. He said the door to the office of E. Leonard Caum, high school principal, had been broken off and the office ransacked. Papers were strewn across the room and cabinets and files had been entered.

Locks on the doors of the concession stand were broken and contents of the stand were scattered about, Patrolman Cavanaugh said.

Major Is Burned In Turnpike Crash

A man and woman injured in the two-car crash on the Pennsylvania Turnpike at Edgely Saturday morning were in satisfactory condition at Lower Bucks County Hospital this morning, while a badly-burned Army major was under medical care at Fort Dix, N.J.

Major Robert A. McGinnis, 54, of Denver, Col., suffered first, second and third degree burns of the face and head when his car caught fire in the crash.

Daniel Foley, 56, of Flushing, N.Y., has a possible concussion and contusions of the chest. Age 52, same address, was cut on the forehead, upper arm and left knee.

Emergency Ladies Calls For Members

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Dillon, president of the Lower Makefield Emergency Unit No. 1 Ladies Auxiliary, today issued a call to all women of Lower Makefield Township and Yardley to join the unit.

She said, "Now the problem of enlarging the auxiliary is facing us."

"We need more women to back up the men," she declared, "for the auxiliary of any group is to assist the men in any way possible."

Home Nursing

Mrs. Dillon pointed out the auxiliary will soon take a home nursing course. The standard course in first aid has been taken by men and women and an advanced course will be taken. "But right now we need more members," she said.

She declared that "after the disastrous flood of 1955, an idea was born to form an emergency unit, a group of volunteer men and women to work together to help one another in saving lives and property should we ever be faced with such a disaster again."

The first problem, she declared, was getting enough men interested, which was quickly solved.

Formation

"Many volunteered, officers were chosen, and the work began," she said. "A charter was secured and all the area along the river from Yardley to Mt.

Eyre Road now has men ready to help each other in case of another flood. It was decided that this group would also be available for bombing attacks, hurricanes, or any other disaster that might hit this area. The wives, mothers and daughters were behind their men and formed the ladies auxiliary."

She pointed out that after a year the men decided to expand and now cover all of Lower Makefield and Yardley and are cooperating and working with the Civil Defense and all other organizations.

Meeting Night

She said that regular meetings of the Ladies auxiliary are the first Monday of each month in the Pine Room of the Yardley Community Center.

"Our next meeting will be Oct. 7," Mrs. Dillon said, "and I hope all women in the Lower Makefield and Yardley areas will join at that time."

Misland said that some work has already been started on the project but has been halted at the Sullivan property line until the jury of view sets the price.
